

all rights reserved by singsang

It's what she didn't say (Peter Wolf/Ina Wolf) there's a suit-case at my door tonight where all my dreams are locked inside never hurt before the way I do I'm afraid of someone new only once you give it all second time you know the fall she was everything and more to me I took her leaving silently the world still turns and seasons change to the wounded nothing's strange late at night oh I miss her touch foolish heart that wants so much it's what she didn't say that hurts so bad it's what we didn't do that makes me sad and now I'm talking to her picture on the wall it's what she didn't say that burns in me a broken promise that won't set me free it's what she didn't say I remember best of all in her silent way she changed my life the best in me became alive with her smile she calmed the storms in me all my passion now runs free on the loose with broken wings wonderin' what tomorrow brings

it's what she didn't say that hurts so bad
it's what we didn't do that makes me sad
and now I'm talking to her picture on the wall
it's what she didn't say that burns in me broken promise that won't set me free it's what she didn't say I remember best of all